

TALK WITH KILBRETH.

New Collector Intimates that Tammany Will Get Few Plums.

Has No Plans Yet as Regards His Administration.

His Appointment and that of Mr. Bunn Please All Hands.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., July 20.—Judge Kilbreth, who was appointed Collector of the Port of New York by President Cleveland yesterday, was seen by an "Evening World" reporter at his country home here this morning.

While he did not say so in so many words he gave the reporter to infer that in the distribution of patronage in the Custom House Tammany Hall need not apply for any of the plums.

The Judge was up to his ears in business when the reporter called at his residence in Fairview.

He had done nothing all the morning save open telegrams of congratulations. They came from all over the State and from other sections of the country.

Among the number were telegrams from Postmaster Dayton, Police Justice Ryan, Tom Costigan and Hans Beatty. He also received numerous applications from editors of magazines and others, asking him to mail them his photograph so that they can publish his picture.

"I don't know what there is for me to say about this appointment," he said, in answer to the questions.

"The first intimation I received that my name was under consideration in any way was an announcement in a morning paper, some weeks ago.

Even then, however, I paid little attention to it as I was very busy with my duties here. I heard something that made me think a little more of the matter.

"Within a few days, however, I received very well told you, nor am I inclined to say to what influence my appointment is due. You know Cleveland himself about that.

"Now as to my plans and as to the manner in which I propose to run the office, I have no plans. It would be idle for me to say that I have any one reason for that I have not as yet been officially informed of my appointment.

"I know nothing about the office or its duties, and I am not familiar with all the details. I will be unable to formulate anything.

"Several lines of inquiry, which I received last night, was the first intimation to me that I had been selected for the honor.

"Now you ask me how I propose to distribute the patronage.

"I cannot give you an answer that, for as I have already said, I don't know how much there is of it.

"I will say just what I can, however, and you cannot quote me too strongly that when I enter upon the duties of Collector of the port of New York, as now seems pretty certain, that I will do so, I propose to run the office so as to receive the full commendation of the public and to run it so as to reflect credit upon Mr. Cleveland's Administration.

"Regarding the different factions of the Democratic party in New York," asked the reporter, "how do you stand?"

"He answered, smiling: 'I have always been opposed to Tammany Hall since the organization of the County Democratic party, and until the latter went out of existence.

"I am not aware of any reason that exists why I should change that position."

"Are you as much against Tammany now as when you were a leader of the County Democracy?" he was asked.

"Well," he replied, with a grim smile, "I did not join Tammany Hall after the election of 1885, and I am not a member of it now, and I don't think I will join it."

Relative to the part he had taken in the anti-Snapper movement and his well-known opposition to Tammany methods, Mr. Kilbreth said:

"I am an admirer of President Cleveland and always have been, ever since the day he was elected the country's first Governor. I have watched him grow after a year, and the more I saw of him the more I admired him.

"Of my opinion he was and is one of the best men of the country ever produced. I think that at the present time he is the best and perhaps about the only man that can bring the country out of the unfortunate position into which it has fallen.

"I was of course an anti-Snapper and worked hard for Mr. Cleveland's interests. Naturally I am not particularly friendly in a political sense with those who oppose him."

There was but one opinion among business men in this city this morning and that was that Judge Kilbreth had made two ideal appointments in the selection of James T. Kilbreth for Collector of Customs and Walter H. Bunn for Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York.

Only the politicians of the Tammany faith are disappointed and even they admit that as far as the men are concerned personally the President was most fortunate in his choice, his appointees being men of sterling character and ability.

Such an endorsement from such a source is probably the strongest recommendation that two of the best men in the business community. For that reason merchants and others who deal through the Custom House are glad that the customs service is to be administered by business men in the interest of the business community.

Tammany men are old and like the Spartans of old they will not let a deal of punishment before they will complain. They have nothing to say against the appointment of Mr. Kilbreth and Mr. Bunn. Neither do they give them their enthusiastic endorsement.

It is recalled that when Justice Kilbreth's term expired in January, his friends presented a petition for his reappointment. This petition bore the signature of the entire body of New York Democrats, Republicans, Mugwumps and of all other classes whose names are worth having on such a document. This petition was ignored, and Joseph Koch was appointed in Mr. Kilbreth's place.

Anti-Snappers tell this story when ever the question is asked if Mr. Kilbreth will reappoint Tammany men to his appointments, as much as to say: "You can draw your own conclusion."

All the appointments outside the civil service, The Appraiser has about the same number of appointments as the Collector, the merit system. These places can be filled with Democrats at once, and others with Republicans.

In the Collector's Department the places are: One Special Deputy at $2,000 each; one Deputy at $1,500 each; one Auditor at $3,000 each; one Assistant Auditor at $2,000 each; one Secretary at $2,000 each; one Confidential Clerk at $2,000 each; one Messenger at $1,000 each; one Detective, rated clerks and female assistants.

Appraiser's Department: Ten assistants at $1,000 each; a secretary at $2,500; janitor, messengers, and 150 packers, writers, assistant auctioneers and laborers.

Business men, as well as politicians, are interested in the distribution of this patronage. The former care little whether the clerk or snapper or anti-snapper as long as they are competent. Judge Kilbreth's appointment is reassuring.

His selection of Mr. Bunn as Appraiser is reassuring. The Collector's Department is a business job. Merchants are also pleased because Judge Kilbreth is a New York man who understands the needs of the business community.

Mr. Bunn, the new Appraiser, is from New York. He is more of a politician than Judge Kilbreth, having been active for years in public affairs in his home, Orange County, New York.

He was formerly a member of the New York State Assembly and was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He and Mr. Kilbreth were Anti-Snappers, both promoted the May 1892 election. They were both elected to the position of Appraiser and both worked for Mr. Cleveland's re-election.

His adherence to Mr. Cleveland probably lost Judge Kilbreth another term as Collector. He was defeated by Mr. Bunn.

The term is for four years, the salary being $10,000 a year. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

Mr. Bunn refused all offers of position and emolument from the opposition. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration. He was elected to the position of Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York under Mr. Cleveland's first Administration.

to meet the difficulties that may confront him in the Custom House. He has always been a strong Cleveland Democrat. He has always believed implicitly in Mr. Cleveland's ideas on the tariff and the money question. He also believes in the higher principles of civil service, and will appoint good Democrats where necessary.

Richard Croker, the Big Chief of Tammany, said that he was glad to see all Mr. Cleveland's appointments. "I am greatly pleased," he said.

Mr. Croker felt "sorry" as the Anti-Snappers predicted, he did not show it. The appointment of two Anti-Snappers with $2,000 each, a special auditor at $3,000 each, and an assistant auditor at $2,000 each, and a confidential clerk at $2,000 each, and a messenger at $1,000 each, and 150 packers, writers, assistant auctioneers and laborers.

Public Works Commissioner Daily was disappointed in the selection of Mr. Bunn. He said Mr. Croker's sentiments were his sentiments.

SARATOGA, July 20.—When interviewed this morning concerning the appointment of James A. Kilbreth as Collector and Walter H. Bunn to be Appraiser of Merchandise for the Port of New York, Mayor H. J. Grant was non-committal.

Mayor Kilbreth as Judge Kilbreth, but his opinion is not to state, Congressman John H. Wood says they are very weak men.

Now Gen. Bussey Explains. Says Those Pension Bureau Decisions Were Not Promulgated.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—EX-ASSISTANT Secretary Bussey denies Deputy Commissioner Wilson's statement that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

Mr. Bussey says that during the Tanner investigation he had, on his own motion, taken a number of cases of pension employees at once, and that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

He said that he had found that sixteen employees of the Pension Bureau, whose pensions were illegally increased in 1880 by Commissioner Tanner, were still drawing their pensions at the increased rate in contempt of special instructions given by Assistant Secretary Bussey to the said and lower rating pensioners; also that a view of these orders of Assistant Secretary Bussey had been secreted and were only recently discovered by Commissioner Lockhart.

NINE UNHEALTHY STATIONS. ANOTHER BEAR RAID.

Health Inspectors' Report on the Branch Post Offices.

Their Condition to Be Remedied and the Main Office Inspected.

During the past few days inspectors of the Health Department have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

The inspectors have been making a tour of inspection of the various branch stations of the Post Office in this city to discover their sanitary condition. This has been done at the request of Postmaster Dayton, who has consulted President Wilson, of the Health Board, early in the week in regard to the matter.

Mr. Dayton, soon after assuming charge of the affairs of the Post-Office, had his attention called to the condition of several of the branch stations, which were reported to be in a bad state. He accordingly consulted President Wilson, who instructed Sanitary Inspectors to inspect the various branch stations of the Post Office.

ANXIETY OVERCOME BY READINESS TO MEET DEMANDS.

Four Banks Give Notice of the Sixty-Day Clause.

There was a run on two Brooklyn savings banks this morning, and four institutions announced that all depositors desiring to withdraw more than $100 must give sixty days' notice.

The South Brooklyn Savings Bank paid out $100,000 in fifteen minutes this morning. Then a consultation with President O'Connell resulted in the announcement that the sixty-day notice would go into effect at once.

This announcement had the desired effect before there was any trouble, as most all the money was paid to large depositors.

The Dime and Germania Savings Banks followed the example of the South Brooklyn, and at 11 o'clock announced that all depositors must give sixty days' notice before drafts for over $100 would be honored.

The East Brooklyn Savings Bank announced that the sixty-day notice would go into effect Monday, and that while it remained in force it would not be a panic-stricken depositor would be recognized.

This Brooklyn Savings Bank this morning there was a lively run on the institution for about an hour, but the bank did not announce that it would take advantage of the sixty-day clause.

A large number of people, mostly women, gathered in front of the institution at Fulton and Nassau streets this morning before the bank opened. They did not announce that it would be a likelihood of not getting their money without giving thirty days' notice.

When the bank officers arrived early this morning they were ready to meet the run. The doors were thrown open and the waiting crowd passed in.

The people scrambled and fought to get to the bank before the doors were closed. The men pushed and shoved the women, and several hats were knocked off.